

Trust Me! Try Dodson's Liver Tone! Calomel Harms Liver and Bowels

Read my guarantee! Liven your liver and bowels and get straightened up without taking sickening calomel. Don't lose a day's work!

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can't salivate.

Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you.—Adv.

Rejects Title of "Hon."

"I received a compliment yesterday for which I did not thank the giver," grumbled old Festus Pester. "A total stranger wrote me a letter and addressed me as 'the Hon.'"

"I do not know why he should have applied that epithet to me, unless it was because he did not know me. I feel safe in saying that even my enemies would not charge me with having many of the characteristics of an Hon."

"I am not a fawning, smirking blatherskite, too lazy to work, nor am I a liar and deadbeat. It may be that I have one attribute of an Hon.—very likely I am a bore, but beyond that I am not guilty."—Kansas City Star.

Talk of Resourcefulness!

He was discussing Australian resourcefulness, and told how an Australian and his dog were lost in the bush. They were starving. The man loved his dog too well to think of killing him for food, not wishing to survive his faithful companion.

At last he had a brilliant idea which would serve to keep them both alive. He kindled a fire, cut off the dog's tail, cooked it, ate the meat, and gave the bone to the dog.

Graceful Evening Wraps

An evening wrap, to be worn with a variety of evening dresses, may be in a color, but cannot exceed, and rarely equals, a wrap of black satin for elegance and good style. Therefore the evening wrap of black satin is a perennial that comes to bloom with each new season; an institution in the wardrobe.

There are some new weaves in silk, very soft and rich, that have a luster as high as that of satin, and they are competing with it for favor in evening wraps. There is not much choice between them, as they are very much alike in appearance. The new fabrics have the advantage of novelty, while satin has a wonderful record behind it, but whatever the fabric, the styles in wraps made from them are the same.

This season's evening wraps are long and ample, capelike affairs that narrow at the ankles and are as wide as the body. To fulfill their destiny they must be sumptuous looking and graceful. Many of the new models have voluminous collars and some of them have short sleeves.

A beautiful example of the black satin wrap appears in the illustration. It is a loose, short cape with a shawl collar, to which the body of the wrap is joined by an embroidered band. The band is narrow with figures in brilliant colors that remind one of jewels. The same colors are used in the large embroidered disks that adorn the wrap at each side of the front. Even a very youthful bride will be regal looking in a wrap of this kind, especially if she wears a crest of plumes in her hair like Guinevere of old.

OUR TIGHTNESS IN THE CHEST

Thedford's Black-Draught, Says
Kentucky Lady, Is Excellent
For Breaking Up a Cold.

Elgin, Ky.—Mrs. Albert Albright, who has lived here many years, says: "I use Black-Draught as a laxative. It is splendid for breaking up colds. I have used it for a bad cold and tightness in the chest. One cup of good warm tea made from Black-Draught I found most helpful. It makes the liver act and gives almost instant relief."

This spring my little daughter began having chills, the hard, shaking kind, after the chills her fever would rise and her head would ache. We are a good ways from the doctor, so I just began giving her good doses of Black-Draught and it cured her. She is in good health, has a good color, and her appetite is all right. So of course we consider Black-Draught as unsurpassed for a family medicine."

Don't wait until you have headache, sick stomach, indigestion, or other disagreeable symptoms, but take an occasional dose of Black-Draught to help keep your system free from poison, your body in good health.

Made from purely vegetable ingredients. Black-Draught acts in a gentle, natural way, and has no bad after-effects. It may be safely taken by young and old.

Palpably False.

"Paw, here's a new puzzle I heered 'a town," stated Coonrod, eldest son of Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge. "A farmer said he had thirty dogs and killed 'em all in five days, killing an odd number each day. What's the answer?"

"The farmer lied; that's all," returned his sire.

"Ah, how do you know? Somebody must have told you."

"I don't need to be told. No farmer that ever I knowed, if he had any sense, would kill any dogs a-tall, any time."—Kansas City Star.

The successful man is always busy, whether he feels like it or not. Any man can work when he feels like it.

The woman who fails to say "because" has some other excuse.

Pretty and Practical Negligees

When negligees come up for consideration in the bride's trousseau it is hard to be in the least degree practical. There is so much latitude for this most intimate dress that designers can give free rein to fancy and let it play with the ancient fabrics, the finest laces, crepes and nets, the gayest ribbons and all the lovely little silk and satin flounces that lure them to extravagances. They indulge in many caprices and draw inspiration from all quarters of the world. But there are negligees that are practical as well as pretty and two of them are shown in the picture above.

One of these is a simple, graceful garment, which is very much like the regulation Japanese kimono. But it follows the lines of the figure more closely and has sleeves that are set in, with a point at the top and all seams outlined with a narrow fancy braid. The length of the figure is not broken by a wide sash, as in the Japanese garment, but a narrow giraffe of satin defines the waistline. This negligee is made of bright-colored satin and cannot be improved upon by a lounging robe.

The negligee at the right of the picture has a plaited skirt which is made either of a thin silk or of crepe georgette, and a coatee, in which crepe and plain and printed silks are all combined in a novel way. It has an effect of angel sleeves made by extending the crepe, which forms the short front of the coat, into floating draperies at the back. A silk cord, sometimes put on in loops and sometimes straight, finishes the edge of the crepe and three strands of this cord, are prettily arranged about the neck.

Rhinestone Rage Is With Us.

An evening gown of monotone red satin is trimmed with narrow bands of pale blue velvet spangled with small rhinestones that glitter lights in red and white and purple. These bands tell the story of the rhinestone rage in glistening dinner gowns, theater party gowns and wraps—and even the toilets for demure afternoon teas.

Colored Hose in Demand.

Owing to the number of different colors in the new lines of woman's shoes, the demand for colored silk hosiery has been greatly increased.

SAVED BY A FAITHFUL WIFE

Suffered Thirty Years With Stomach Trouble and Hemorrhages of the Bowels.

The Story of a Wonderful Recovery

There is hardly any one who does not experience some trouble with the stomach. It is so common that we frequently pay little or no attention to it. Yet, the stomach is very easily upset, and catarrhal inflammation of the mucous lining develops, grows worse—the pain and distress is incessant and the truth dawns that we have chronic stomach trouble.

The case of Mr. Louis Young, 205 Merrimac St., Rochester, N. Y., is typical. He writes: "I suffered for thirty years with chronic bowel trouble, stomach trouble and hemorrhages of the bowels. We bought a bottle of Peruna and I took it faithfully. I began to feel better. My wife persuaded me to continue and I did for some time as directed. Now I am a well man." Mr. Young's experience is not unusual.

If you suffer from catarrh in any form, whether of the head, stomach, bowels or any other part of the body, try Peruna. It may be just what you need. Peruna comes in either liquid or tablet form and is sold everywhere. Your dealer has it or will get it for you. Ask for Dr. Hartman's World-Famous Peruna Tonic and insist upon having it. If you want your health accept nothing else.

All the sick and suffering are invited to write The Peruna Company, Dept. 78, Columbus, Ohio, for Dr. Hartman's Health Book. The book is free and may help you. Ask your dealer for a Peruna Almanac.

AN ALL-AROUND SAVING

Thanks to the War, housewives have been given some unforgettable lessons in common sense. Minute saving and penny saving have gained new significance.

One vital economy which has impressed itself upon thousands of practical women is quick breads—the new and better way of supplying the staff of life, always recognized as more essential than bullets.

While the pre-war methods which so frequently suggested the use of yeast were far ahead of the prehistoric practices of soaking grain in water until softened, then making into a paste and baking into a hard, granitic cake, the necessity of using baking powder with substitute flours in the various war recipes has antiquated the old, slow, cumbersome methods which for centuries have handicapped cooks, without sacrificing taste, texture or technique.

Quick breads mean a saving of time and when made of high-grade ingredients are also of better quality and more economical.

The use of baking powder prevents a continuous loss of a small percentage of flour from which there is no escape when yeast is used.

One of my friends writes of her experiences and how she was won over to the new way as follows:

"Through my desire to 'Save Food and Help Win the War,' I became interested in an unusual advertisement for Calumet Baking Powder in which it was claimed that dough left over from the evening meal could be placed in the refrigerator and used for breakfast biscuits with gratifying results."

"Early training had taught me to consider yeast as the only leavening element worthy of my time and trouble in baking. I laid aside my prejudices and was delighted to find the problems which formerly worried me are now so easy, and today seem almost unreal. I am filled with a new zeal to cook since I gained the help of this time-saving product."

Even though the world is again following peaceful pursuits, the purchase power of a penny is much less than it was a few years ago. Housewives can only meet this unusual condition by heeding the lessons which the War has taught them, including the tests that have proven the folly of judging values by outward appearances, such as the size of the package or looking at quantity rather than quality, etc. for example—a 10-cent can of Calumet will furnish more leavening than the Big Can of double its size of some cheap mixture, manufactured by haphazard methods.—Adv.

A buzz saw can teach an inquisitive man more in a minute than the best instructors can teach him in a lifetime.

You will not do enough if you do not try to do more than enough.

Back Lane and Achy?

There's little peace when your kidneys are weak and while at first there may be nothing more serious than dull backache, sharp, stabbing pains, headaches, dizzy spells and kidney irregularities, you must act quickly to avoid the more serious trouble, dropsy, gravel, heart disease, Bright's disease. Use Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy that is so warmly recommended everywhere by grateful users.

A Mississippi Case

J. R. Cobb, farmer, New St., Natchez, Miss., says: "I suffered for many years with kidney trouble, which finally became so bad that I was sent to the hospital. For two months, I couldn't get out of bed and was practically helpless. It developed from a backache to rheumatic pains and my blood was so full of uric acid, it affected my heart. The Flow of Meat

Two-thirds of the live stock in the United States has to be raised in the West.

One-half of the consumers of meat live in the East.

In other words, most of the live stock is one or two thousand miles distant from most of the people who need it in the form of food.

Fifty years ago, when live stock was raised close to every consuming center, the country butcher could handle the job after a fashion.

But the job got too big.

Now millions of animals have to be moved hundreds of miles to millions of people. Somewhere on the way they have to be turned into meat.

The packers solved the problem. They set up plants where the "live haul" and the "meat haul" were in the right balance. They built up distributing systems—refrigerator cars, refrigerating plants, branch houses. They saved time, money and meat everywhere. The stockraiser benefited in better markets and higher prices; the consumer, in better meat and lower prices.

As the country grew, the packers had to grow, or break down. Because of its present size and efficiency, Swift & Company is able to perform its part in this service at a fraction of a cent per pound profit.
